

Chicago Packer, 15 April 1933 — James L. Leonard Will Attend Melon Convention . [ARTICLE]

James L. Leonard Will Attend Melon Convention.

Cincinnati, April 14. — James L. Leonard of Leonard, Crosset & Riley, and Luke J. Leonard & Co., has announced his intention of attending the convention of the Melon Distributors Association in Atlanta next week.

Mr. Leonard, who fostered the formation of the association and who is chairman of the executive committee, has been a major factor in the functionings of the organization. Due to sickness he was forced to miss the convention last year. That was the first one he had ever missed. His presence at the gathering this year will be enthusiastically welcomed by his many friends. Mr. Leonard will be accompanied by his wife. D. W. Easterlin, also of the firm, will likewise be in attendance.